Antenna Project

We want to give thanks to everyone that showed up this last Saturday (April 23rd) to help out with the antenna project at the clubhouse. So far it has been a success from all of the testing that has been done from other hams around the area including some of our club members. We have had numerous praises from around the area. Great job everyone! Also here are some pics of the project that was taken during the project.

Blast from the past News Article

It's spring and a young ham's fancy turns lightly to antenna work. There are several new upgrades in the newsletter area.

They are to be congratulated on their accomplishments. Some are now adding to their antenna farms to operate on the lower bands. I too have been doing some antenna work. Every spring it seems like something broke through the winter or MUST be improved. Today the chore was moving the dirt around from the hole that was dug for the tower last year. What a mess - grass seed later. Seen here is a project a few years ago. Getting rid of the vines. Happens every year to at least one of the antenna supports. Happy Spring!
